If you ask us not to disclose your health information to your health plan, we will agree as long as (i) the disclosure would be for the purpose of payment or health care operations and is not otherwise required by law and (ii) the information only relates to items or services that someone other than your health plan has paid for in full.

For example, you may ask that we contact you at work or by U.S. mail. We will grant requests for confidential communications at alternative locations and/or via alternate means only if the request is submitted in writing and the written request includes a mailing address where you will receive bills for services rendered by the facility and related correspondence regarding payment for services. Please realize that we reserve the right to contact you by other means and at other locations if you fail to respond to any communication from us that requires a response.

Consent for Pelvic Examination

I, _____ , DOB _____ , I am an adult over 18 years of age and able to make my own medical treatment decisions.

I understand that my doctor, _____ , recommends that I have a Pelvic Exam to further assist in my diagnostic work-up and medical treatment plan. "Pelvic Exam" for the purposes of this consent means the series of tasks that comprise an examination of the vagina, cervix. uterus, fallopian tubes, ovaries, rectum, or external pelvic tissue or organs using any combination of modalities, which may include, but need not be limited to, the health care provider's gloved hand or instrumentation.

I have been informed of the following:

- The Pelvic Exam is part of the evaluation of women presenting with many common conditions, including pelvic pain, abnormal bleeding, vaginal discharge, and sexual problems.
- Pelvic Exams – both in the office and while under anesthesia – are an important part of evaluation for gynecologic procedures to ensure safe completion of the planned procedure.
- Often, a Pelvic Exam is performed for women without symptoms while looking for gynecologic cancer, infection, and pelvic inflammatory disease.
- A Pelvic Exam is an assessment of the external genitalia; an internal speculum examination of the vagina and cervix; a bimanual palpation of the adnexa, uterus, and bladder; and sometimes a rectovaginal examination.

I understand that the reasons for a Pelvic Exam can include, but are not limited to, health screening, abnormal bleeding, pelvic pain, sexual problems, vaginal bulge, urinary issues, or inability to insert a tampon. Other indications include patients undergoing a pelvic procedure (e.g., endometrial biopsy or intrauterine device placement). Also, a Pelvic Exam is indicated in women with current or a history of abnormal pap results, gynecologic cancers, toxic exposures.

The benefits of a Pelvic Exam have been explained to me. I understand the benefits include:

- The detection of vulvar, vaginal, cervical, uterine and ovarian cancers and precancers.
- The detection of yeast and bacterial vaginosis, trichomoniasis, and genital herpes.
- Early detection of treatable gynecologic conditions before symptoms begin occurring (e.g. vulvar or vaginal cancer),as well as detection of incidental findings such as dermatologic changes and foreign bodies.
- Additional screening Pelvic Exams in the context of a well woman visit may allow gynecologists to explain my anatomy, assure me of normalcy, and answer my specific questions.

The potential risks of a Pelvic Exam have also been explained to me and may include, but are not limited to, mild pain and discomfort, slight bleeding or discharge. The alternatives to having a Pelvic Exam performed have also been explained to me. I understand that there are few alternatives to a Pelvic Exam, the alternatives are not as effective for providing diagnostic or evaluative information and carry their own set of potential risks.

The provider or their delegate has explained to me the above as well as the nature, purpose. and possible consequences of the Pelvic Exam as well as risks involved, possible complications, and possible alternative methods of treatment. I also know that the information given to me does not list every possible risk and that other, !es likely problems could occur. I was not given any guarantee from anyone about the final results of this procedure.

I consent to having the Pelvic Exam performed. This consent is valid for 90 days. I can withdraw my consent at any time by informing my provider in writing that consent is withdrawn .
